

Billie Burke Tells How to Get Rid of That Coat of Tan You Got This Summer

BY BILLIE BURKE.

Since I have been ill I have found out that no busy woman who goes along and does her work day after day ever realizes just how much she accomplishes until for some reason she leaves undone those things she ought to do.

Such sweet letters have come to me from my many readers since I have been sick! I wish I could tell every one of the writers personally how much I appreciate their thoughtfulness, but these letters have piled up on my desk until I can hardly see over them and my secretary says that it will be impossible for her to take any more dictation than she is doing. With rehearsals for two new plays coming it looks like a strenuous few months for B. B.

I am today going to answer a number of frantic requests, however, for "something to take off my tan".

During the summer you were delighted with your fine brown color; in fact, you tried to get as tanned as possible, but now that you are home and beginning to think of going to the theater and to parties, not one of your hats or frocks seem to look well with your darkened skin. And to cap the climax of your annoyance and distress you find that for every shade that your complexion has turned dark your hair—from going without a hat—has turned a shade lighter. You feel like a "bleached blond".

But you can bleach your skin out in a very few weeks if you go at it in the right manner. There is nothing that is a finer bleach than perspiration, so first you must take a sweat bath at least twice a week. You need not go to the Turkish bath to do this. Just put a half pint of alcohol in a pint pail and put the pail on an overturned soup plate under a wooden kitchen chair. Put a cushion on the wood seat and after you have lighted the spirits and seated yourself have someone wrap around you and the chair a heavy blanket. Be very careful that the flames are not high enough to burn you or set the blanket on fire.

Sit as long as possible and when you are good and wet get into the bathtub filled with very warm salt water. Wash yourself thoroughly and then turn on the cold water. Stay in the tub until the water is perfectly cold and then rub yourself dry with a coarse towel. After you are perfectly dry dab on your face, arms and neck the following lotion:

One pint of extract of hamamelis, one pint of rose water, one-half ounce of benzoin and one ounce of aromatic vinegar. The next morning cleanse your face in cold cream made after the following formula:

One ounce of coconut butter, one ounce of lanolin, one-half ounce of white tar, one-half ounce of spermaceti, two ounces of sweet almond oil, two ounces of orange flower water and 10 drops of benzoin. Heat wax and oils and beat in the orange water. Beat until perfectly cold.

The nights you do not take the sweat baths wash your hands, face and neck with a 10 percent solution of boracic acid made milky with a few drops of benzoin. This treatment will whiten your skin as rapidly as anything I know. But it is a thousand times better not to get brown in the first place.

NEGRO CONVICT KILLS GUARD WITH REVOLVER

Another Also Shot When Inmate Makes Desperate Effort to Escape From Prison.

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 22.—In a desperate encounter with a negro convict who was trying to escape from the institution, Eli B. Stetser, a deputy keeper at the New Jersey state prison, was shot by the prisoner and died later at a hospital. A convict, William Diamond, was shot twice in the arm by Stetser and is now in the prison hospital. He will be charged with murder as soon as he is able to appear in court.

Diamond and another convict, James Johnson, also colored, had planned to escape together and asked to see Dr. Crane, the prison physician, claiming they were sick. As the men were released from their cells by Deputy Keeper Pierson, Johnson grabbed Pierson, and Diamond wrenched from the keeper his revolver. He opened fire on Stetser, who returned the fire, hitting Diamond twice. Meanwhile Pierson had escaped from the clutches of Johnson and he and Dr. Crane grabbed Diamond and prevented him from firing again.

cupied no less than 14 musical numbers are sung, or at least the choruses are introduced.

There isn't any story, or any seemingly need of one, as the various well-known musical comedy figures are introduced they go into a lively song and with the chorus working in different numbers as fast as they can change costumes—why worry about a plot.

The ability of the cast averages very well with similar production without developing any stellar talent. Barney Flynn and Archie Foulk, get some good-natured fun out of two Irish characters. They do the usual cante scene, with the usual jokes, in the usual way that has stood the test in burlesque for many years. Jack Patton looks smart and acts the same way and has one song worth while with Madlyn Phillips, who is dimly attractive. May Wallace assists nicely in the farcical action and one or two numbers.

The cooperation of Ethel Whitesides, and her four lively pickaninies, is enlisted to lighten the show to proper length. Catchy songs with individual drops depicting various lands and people, with the little fellows in countless costumes changes, eccentric dances and popular songs, assisted and directed by Miss Whitesides, the specialty is a pleasing one.

Health and Beauty Helps

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

Mrs. O. L.: You complain of brittle, faded hair. You will find that keeping the scalp clean and healthy is the most effective way to restore the natural beauty and softness, but in selecting your shampoo, take my advice. The paste to the obnoxious hairs and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off and the hairs will come with it. After the skin is washed and dried, it will be velvety and free from hair or blemish.

E. G.: Nature never intended woman to have fuzz on her cheek. Get from your drugstore a small original package of detanant and mix a little of the powder with water. Apply the paste to the obnoxious hairs and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off and the hairs will come with it. After the skin is washed and dried, it will be velvety and free from hair or blemish.

Katie: Yes, powder has ruined more complexions than it has aided and while you use it you can hope for nothing better than an imitation of a real complexion. Take my advice: your drugstore has a one-ounce spritzing and dissolve in 1/2 pint hot water or witch hazel, then add 2 teapoonfuls glycerine and mix with a little ideal yet inexpensive lotion, which seems a part of the skin. Apply this spritzing when leaving the house, and rub lightly for an instant and it will wash, leaving the skin clear and soft. The daily use of this spritzing lotion rids the skin of that coarse, sallow, oily appearance and renders the complexion divinely fair and beautiful.

Elaine: Yes, there is a harmless way to make your eyes sparkle, a way that will also strengthen and rid them of that dull ache and tired feeling you mention. Take and use the following eye tonic: Dissolve 1 ounce crystals in 1 pint clear water, then put 2 or 3 drops in each eye a few minutes before going to bed. It is good for granulated eyelids, to reduce inflammation and take out soreness.

Miss C.: Dandruff is the cause of your trouble. Cleanse the scalp thoroughly. Then twice a week massage a little of this tonic into the scalp. Make the tonic by pouring 1 ounce quinine into 1/2 pint alcohol, to which is then added 1/2 pint water. This quinine tonic is soothing and healing to itching, tender scalp and is wonderfully effective in restoring the glossy and shining, full, restoring hair and its continued use will induce a lovely growth of long, healthy, beautiful hair.

Dietary: You can quickly remove that blemish on your face and regain your former beauty if you use patanols, prepared at little expense, as follows: Into 1/2 pint hot water put 4 ounces patanols and strain when cool. Take a tablespoonful before each meal until your weight is sufficiently reduced, then discontinue treatment. No ill results follow this method of reduction and your flesh and skin will be left firm and smooth.

Maurice: The sallow, yellow color of your neck and chin, of which you speak, are caused by sluggish blood and which is not properly eliminating the poisons from the system. Try this blood purifier and tonic: Into 1/2 pint alcohol (whisky must not be used), pour 2 ounces hardens, then add 1/2 cupful sugar and hot water to make a full quart. Take 1 tablespoonful of this old-fashioned blood cleanser and tonic before each meal. This is splendid for that weak, worn feeling and restores the vital organs to a healthy condition and its timely use will save much serious sickness.

Eva: If your skin is wrinkled or saggy, you need the stimulating and beautifying effect of some simple vegetable jelly-cream, which can be easily and cheaply made at home. Try this one: Get from your drugstore one ounce of glycerine and dissolve in 1/2 pint cold water, adding two teapoonfuls glycerine. Use this in a gentle massage and as a jelly-cream on wrinkled surface and it will work wonders on your skin, eradicating wrinkles and revealing that velvety, youthful glow.—Advertisement.

THE BLUE-MOUSE.

The Grayce Scott Players are presenting a laughable farce, "The Blue Mouse," at the Auditorium this week and playing it well. This lively comedy was written by the late Clyde Fitch and successfully played by the late Mabel Barrison for several seasons. It resembles the French style of comedy, is based on mistaken identity and the efforts of an attractive show girl to wheedle a promotion out of a susceptible railroad man for a gentleman friend of hers. This little lady of the theater is termed "the blue mouse."

Miss Scott plays the title role and it is the best thing she has done during her engagement here. She impersonates a wife, flirts outrageously with almost every male character in the piece, is demure, bawdiness, devilish and abused, as the situations call for the various moods. She plays with regular spirit and discreetly skates over some pretty thin ice at times without disaster. She even presents a harmless disrobing scene and carries it through charmingly by her winning personality and skill as a player. Miss Scott will win friends with "The Blue Mouse."

Mr. Ford, as the worried young business man, looks and acts the part naturally and puts a world of youthful energy into his work. Mr. Bailey, is a gray old deceiver with his mind more on the fluffy females than on his railroad, is amusing, and Mr. Thompson played a susceptible rube satisfactorily. Miss Ball was the innocent wife, who believed everything told her, and Miss Knott an equally easily deceived matron. Mr. Anders, Miss Dudley and others were capable in small parts.

The accurate and special settings deserve mention and the speed with which the many complicated situations were handled denotes careful rehearsing and painstaking effort. The company's first production of farce is a success.

THE COMMON LAW.

"The Common Law," a dramatization of Robert W. Chambers' sensational novel, which Manager A. H. Woods produced last season with such gratifying results, is booked for the Oliver for Friday evening, and countless numbers of fiction readers who have been charmed and fascinated by Mr. Chambers' book, will doubtless look forward to witnessing the play with much pleasurable interest.

OFFICER 666.

"Officer 666," who, by unanimous vote, has been acclaimed the funniest and most popular policeman that ever swung a night stick, will be on post at the Oliver Saturday matinee and night, where his efforts to extricate himself from a web of complications in which he becomes entangled, is certain to arouse the usual whirlwind of laughter that has followed in his wake ever since he was appointed on the laughing squad a year ago.

There is no speedier or surer cure for a grouch than paying a visit to "Officer 666."

AT THE ORPHEUM.

The musical show with the non-descriptive title, "I Should Worry" opened a four days engagement at the Orpheum Sunday to crowded houses. The piece is termed a musical review and the hour's time occupied no less than 14 musical numbers are sung, or at least the choruses are introduced.
